

WOOFS & HOOFS ANIMAL MASSAGE NATURAL HEALING FOR PETS NEWSLETTER—JANUARY SUPPLEMENT

VOLUME 3, ISSUE .5 TUESDAY, 13 JANUARY 2009

NEW YEAR'S GREETINGS FROM WOOF AND HOOFS

We know what you are thinking. Natural Healing for Pets is a bi-monthly newsletter, and you are not due to hear from us until February. Well, not to worry, you have not lost track of time. We have had many questions about our Animal Communication Workshop in May, and we thought we would take some time to answer them all at once. Our normal newsletter will be back in February; however, let us take this unique opportunity to send warm wishes to you and your animal from Woofs and Hoofs.

ANIMAL COMMUNICATOR, HEIDI WRIGHT, COMES TO WOOF AND HOOFS

Heidi Wright will be joining us at Woofs and Hoofs on 8-9 May for a two day animal communication workshop.

Heidi is an Animal Communicator that has helped animals from 21 countries around the world. Heidi Wright is featured in the book, The Language of Miracles, by Amelia Kinkade, and is currently appearing on a hit TV show in Japan and Korea. She also is a co-author of the upcoming book Empowered.

But what exactly is an animal communicator and how can they help?

Did you ever think that your pet was trying to tell you something? An animal communicator can open up that path of communication and help give you the animal's perspective. They may be able to help with behavior issues or help an animal through a transition in their lives.

Heidi works to learn the motivation behind an animal's behavior by understanding the animal's feelings. She is not a doctor, but can negotiate between humans and animals telepathically so that they understand each other perspectives better.

Anyone has the ability to communicate with their animals telepathically at some level. Heidi will help those that join us for the weekend to tap into any of their own natural ability to intuitively communicate with animals.

Participants will learn through a series of focusing exercises which animal communication methods they possess and how to know when animals are attempting to communicate with them. Heidi will explain how to send and receive information and how to meditate. She will also provide recommended reading lists and the latest information she has learned on here recent studies and travels.

Please join us if you can.

ANIMAL COMMUNICATION WORKSHOP—8/9 MAY 2009

During the Animal Communication Workshop, Heidi Wright will teach you which intuitive method is natural for you as well as teach you exercises and techniques to improve your skills and confidence. Many of the animals at Woofs & Hoofs will be used for the exercises as well as distance communication with your own pets during this 2-day workshop.

The workshop fee of €50 includes 2-days of instruction, practice, lunch, and refreshments on each day. A workshop handbook, yours to keep, is also included during the workshop. Both a minimum and a maximum number of people will be permitted to participate so sign-up now!

To join in this exciting weekend, please register through our webshop at <http://www.woofsandhoofs.be/shop/index.php>.
